

My favorite thing this week would have to have been yesterday and today. I liked yesterday and today the most only because I got to prove Brendan wrong for the nine millionth time lol. But I really enjoyed saw the boards in half, and I enjoyed getting to break the glass. In loved putting the pieces together. I also enjoyed getting to make my own shirt and dress. Along with a few other things, and I enjoy getting to work with Tika to learn new designs. I also enjoyed getting paired with Shaniyah and Jihaad because they are very artistic. Along with Nia and Shaniyah because we made a dress with a hood which is something we all could agree we might wear.
