

My favorite thing of this week was probably working with the bleaching on my jean charging dock holder it was fun to learn something new. I greatly thank latika and dana for helping me complete my silhoutte piece. Learning something new can be great and i'm thankful for that. My least favorite thing of the week is cutting my silhoutte piece because i'm not really that good with the scissors.