The most memorable moment from this week was when we were outside at the kaboom playground... The activity we did was kind of fun it proves that we can be able to trust our team member in situations. Another thing that we did that was memorable was the hula hoop challenge it shows that members can work as a team. The 2 devastating moments of this week is when another youth laughed at a team leader and i didn't think of that as of being that nice of communication it does not show a potential to be nice. Then there was an intern that made up a false statement that i personally disagreed with i didn't think that was nice nither positive as a young leader.
