

What i liked about this week

This week was very interesting all the new faces and people. I had to really come out of my shell to express some of the feelings this week in fashion we had to come up with team names and we all had to volunteer i contributed we made a dress out of tablecloth. Today Friday 6/1/16 we had to come up with trending hashtags we tried to come up with clever hashtags but sadly we didn't we came up with a team name it is Wavy which means to be laid back chilled with our own style. Which is really awesome I don't like waking up early though.